

What do we know about property rights?

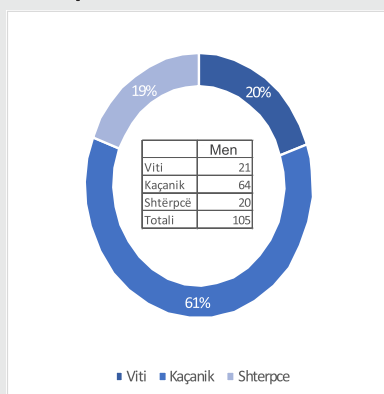

An analysis on knowledge and attitudes of women and men in the municipalities of Kaçanik, Viti and Shterpce on women's property and inheritance rights

For the preparation of this info-graph there were 395 questionnaires conducted with women and men from the rural areas of Kaçanik, Viti dhe Shterpce who were beneficiaries of the project 'Women as property rights agents' implemented by Kosova – Women 4 Women. 290 women and 105 men from these municipalities were surveyed through a questionnaire that aimed at collecting general statistics on property and inheritance, while focusing more on knowledge and attitudes of women and men on property and inheritance rights of women before any project interventions. The questionnaires were anonymous and self-administered with the aim to be filled out correctly and reflect best the reality.

Demographic data of respondents

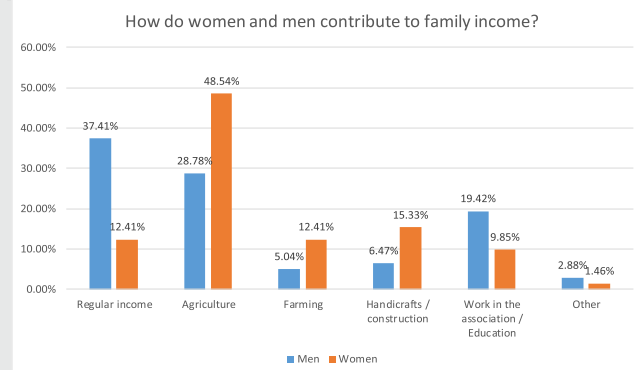

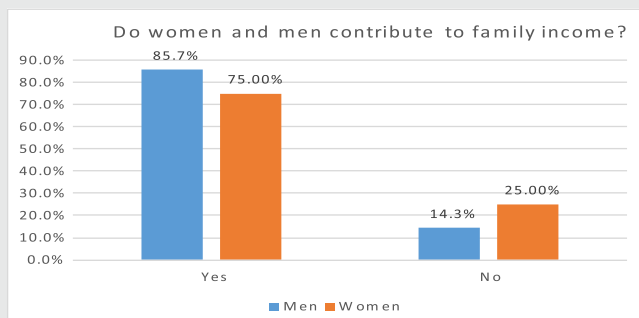

Average age: 45

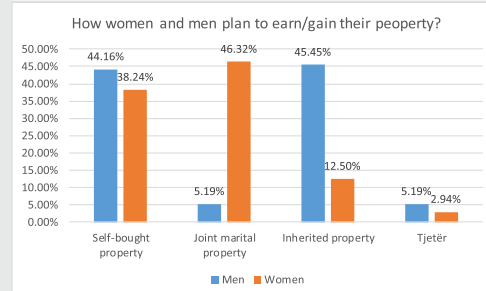

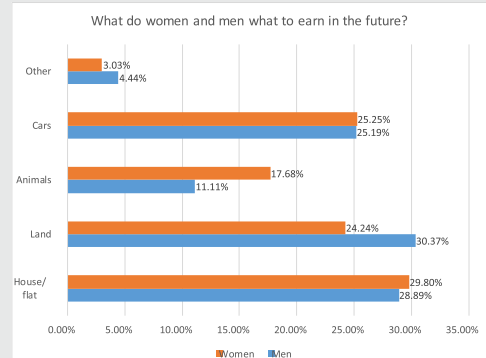

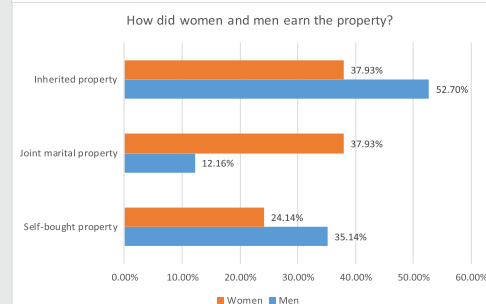

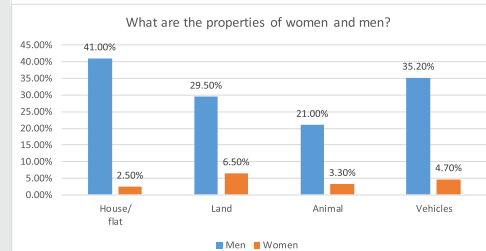

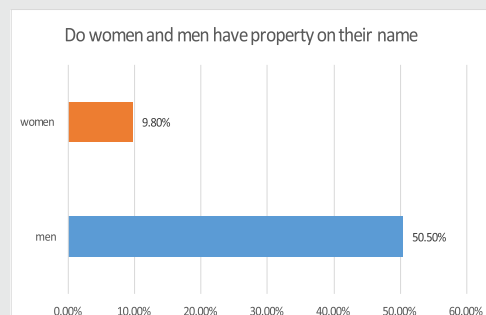

Average age: 39

Economic contribution of women and men in their family

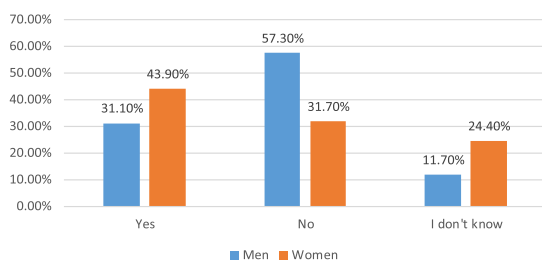

Women, men and property

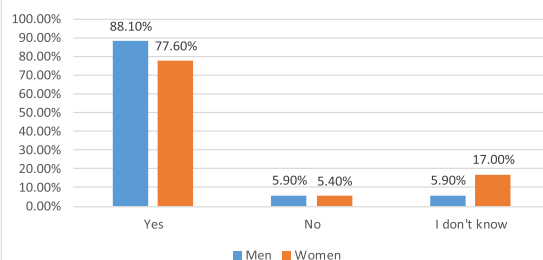

Knowledge of women and men on the legislation and women's property rights

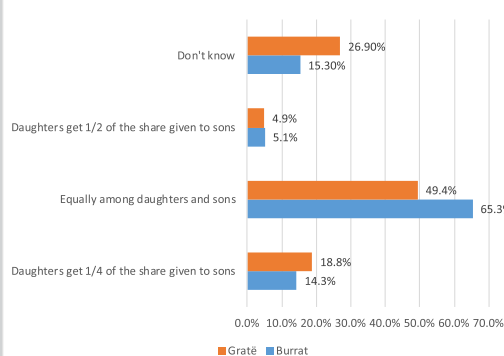

Perceptions of women and men: Do the laws give more rights to inheritance for boys while damaging the girls?

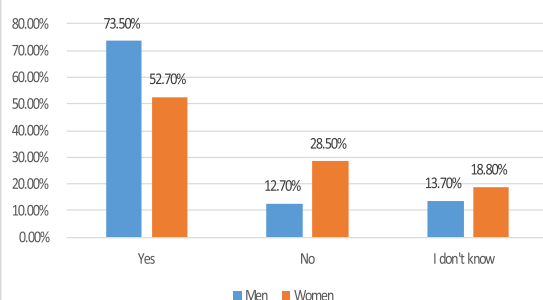

Thought of women and men: Are women's property rights basic human rights?

Knowledge of women and men: How is the inheritance shared across daughters and sons according to Kosovo Laws?

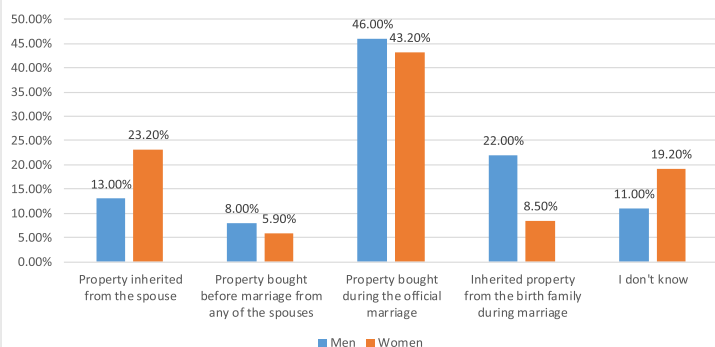

Thoughts of women and men: Do the Kosovo laws support women's property rights?

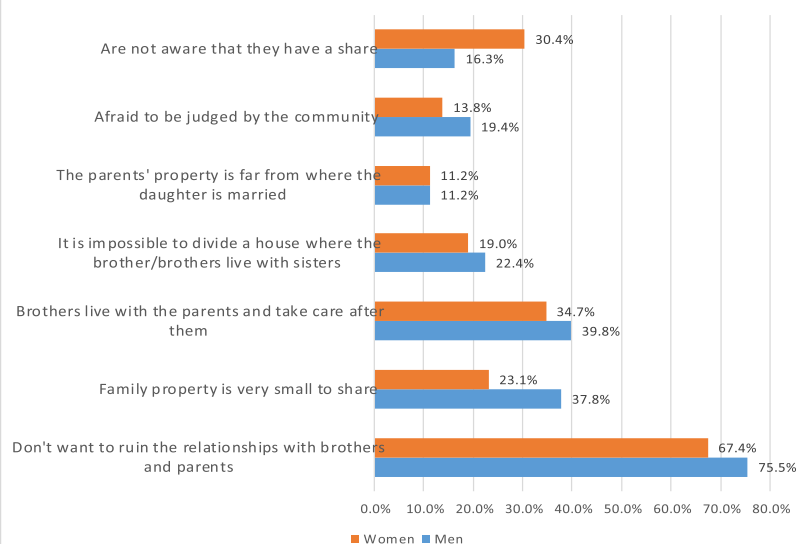

Knowledge of women and men on joint marital property

Opinions of women and men: What is a joint marital property?

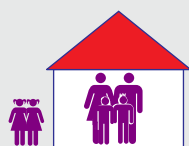

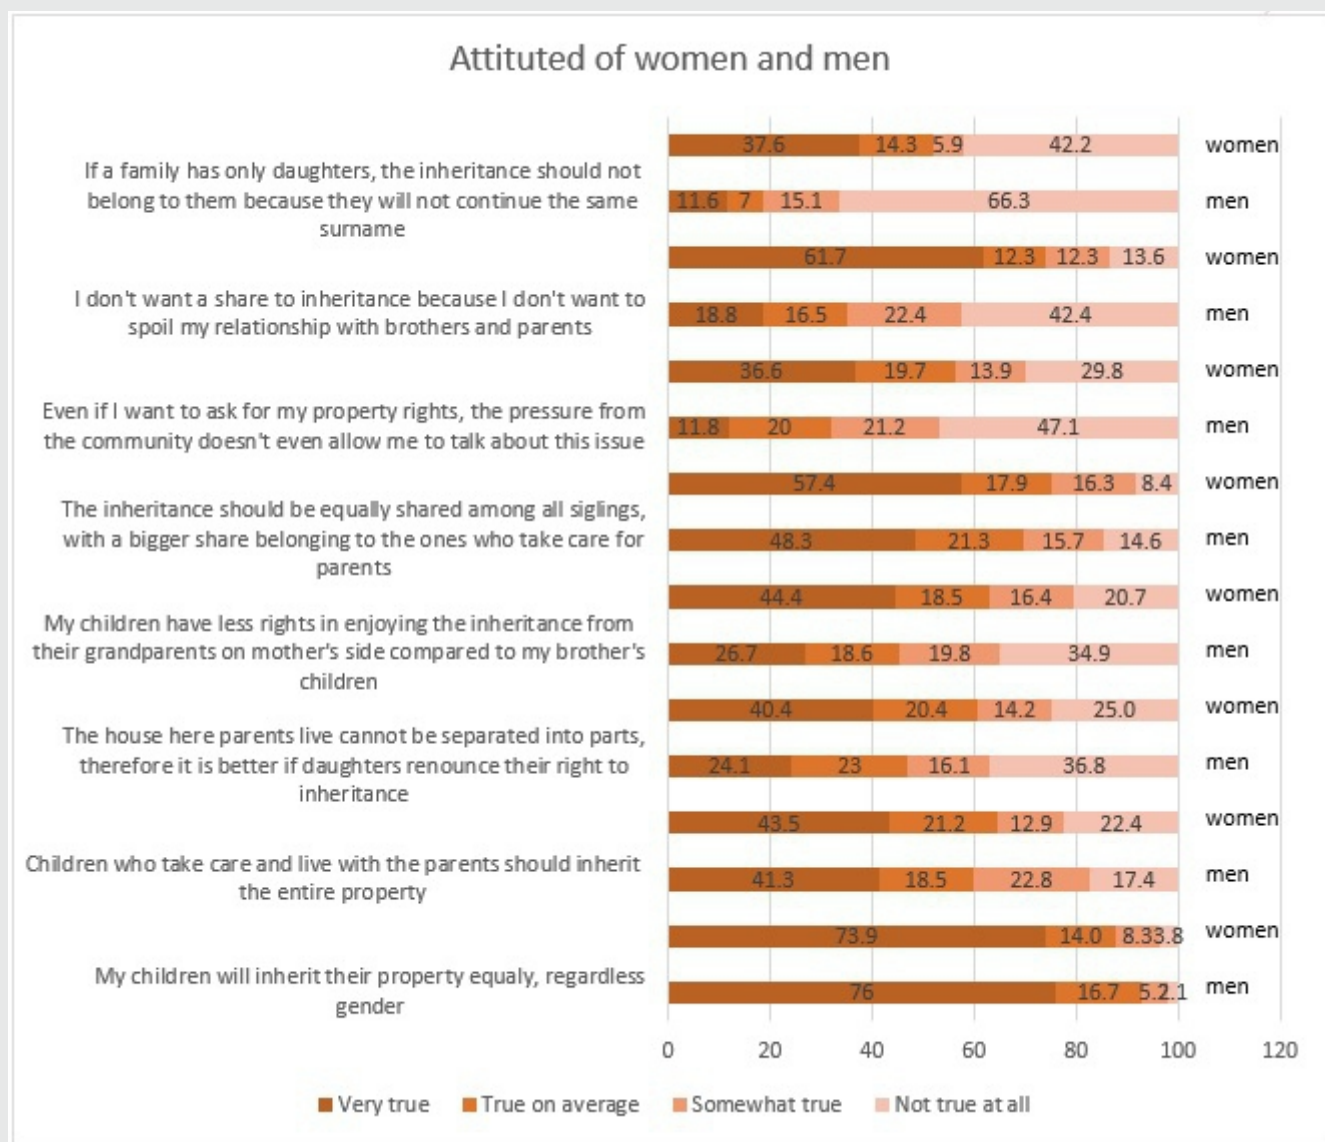

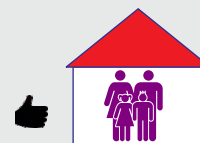

Opinions of women and men on the reasons for women/girls renounce their property rights

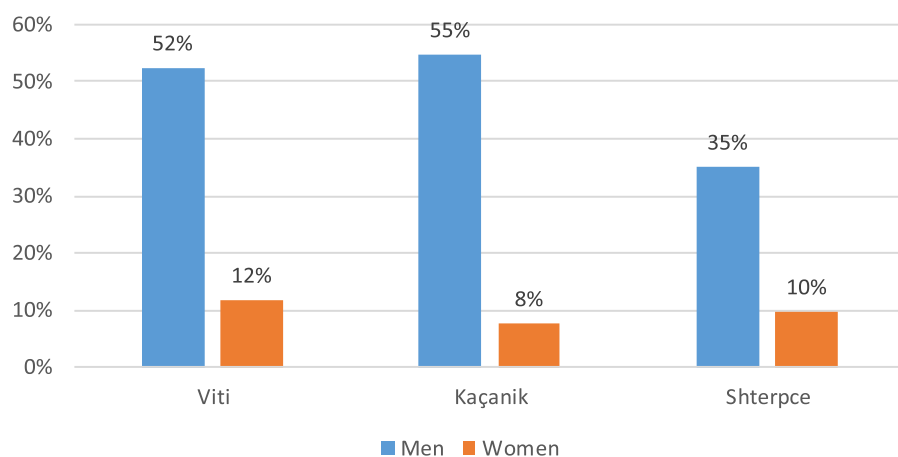

Opinions of women and men: Why women/girls renounce on their rights to inheritance?

Attitudes of women and men on property and inheritance for women/girls (%)

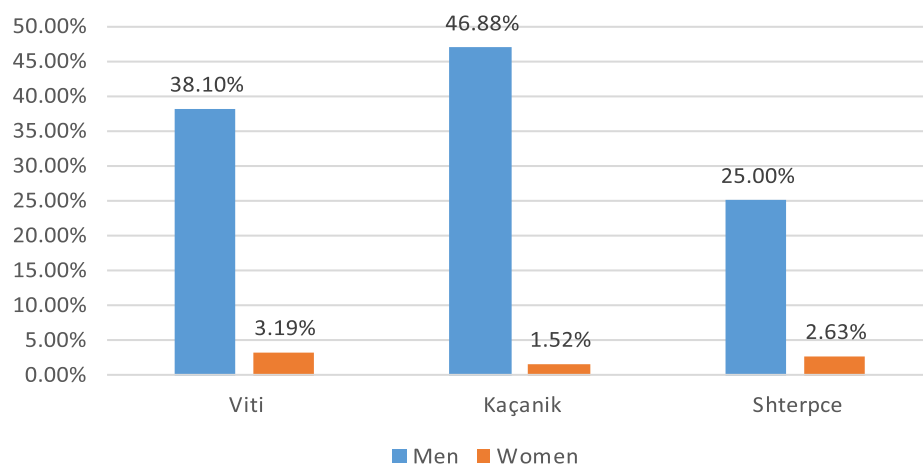

Women, men and property per municipality

Property ownership per municipality

Share of immovable property among women and men per municipality

% of women and men who own: House/ flat

% of women and men who own: land

